memory's in the night jar
locked up safe.

your faces leak out in quick dreams

it's a dizzy spiral
year to year

and then it's gone: lost to a page

memory's an inaccurate two faced creature

recalling wrong words on the proper moments

even the geography may bend to blurring given time and we witness anything in order to preserve distortion

i thought i heard your voice again
i thought i saw this outside my window

but it's only vague distillations.
rattling off the page

and now that i'm far away
i remember that i forgot to see this — forgot to take my own photographs.

Coming To Gullford, Enrolled As A Freshman ..

Coming to Guilford your very first year.
May convince you that COLLEGE isn't something to fear.

You'll find yourself "enveloped" in a school closely-knit.
On this family-like campus, you'll promptly fit.

Both students and faculty are so helpful and warm.
And it's easy to make friends right in your dorm.

There are many opportunities, so MUCH you can do!
Intramurals, clubs, seminars are only a few.

Life with these Quakers is informal and free.
It's easy, here at Guilford, as you will soon see.

To find your circle of friends and settle down.
Even enjoy an occasional "party night" here or in town.

When you want to take a walk, get away, or be alone.
Our large "wooded" campus is a pretty place to roam.

Many possibilities- ALWAYS something new.
Take advantage of what's here- it's all up to you.

It watched, but did not see because its face was part of mine.
A restless thought, it drifted in, around,
in guise of friend,
of word,
of pictures often glimpsed but never seen
except in retrospect and mirror-eyes.

"What is an education? Is it the worshipped classics or quotes twined deep in ivy-covered walls? Or is it more?"

"He's a freshman," she said. "How do you know?" "I can tell. I was one once."

"Southern sun on whitened columns. Voices from windows, under trees—in, around, and through, permeating everything everywhere. Voices speaking of philosophies, of frustrations, of questions, of anger, of discovery."

"What is reality? Reality is relative. Reality is me reacting with you."

"I've got to study—so let me mark my book and put it on the shelf and we'll go run and look at trees and buy an ice cream cone and sing 'The Way We Were' and I'll talk to you and you talk to me and we'll both listen to the world."

It listened, but it was I that finally heard beneath the words I'd thought were me.
It nursed the canyon's echo and sent it ringing
through a friend,
a word,
a picture I had yet to see
except in retrospect and mirror-eyes.

FOUNDERS RE-FOUNDED

Slow
O. slow
and painful that first march of mortared, fire-fired bricks and fire-fired minds
far-visioned
to mould into some indestructible Essentiality
the Light
Inward and outward Spirit moved and moving half a hundred then and since and yet
a thousand times ten lit again and again Something there is that cannot die or fall

or fail – The Same
that hovered when they rose rises still and again and even whether there be walls at all –
Let us remove our shoes
The Bush is not consumed.

LEAN WALTER THROWING A POT

Lean Walter plants his firmament on a three-legged stool
his feet like shooting stars leap unto the Lord. Ezekiel's wheel spins the universe to a pregnant whorl.
Lean Walter throws a pot.

The bulb of clay
sprouts to his good grey thumb swells ripe to bursting flowers into form.
Lean Walter calls it good.

Here where jagged light leaks through the ruined barn dust returns unto flesh life flung outward
from a lean man kicking a wheel.

COMPENSATION (Bicentennial salute)

I am always being weighed in the balances
and found wanting—
Not in heft
but in those tribal totem traits
we like most to commemorate:
deer fleetness
lion courage
eagle flight
fox cunning.
Somewhere a tribe must have carved
the likeness of a bear.
I shall lumber off to find it.

Fait Accompli

After graduation from Guilford College, most of my fondest memories will probably be of this 50 member "family" . . . There were thrilling moments when true and balanced a capella harmony brought rapturous sighs from director Ed Lowe . . . "Getting educated" by strolling down the streets of Old Charleston and discovering the culture of New York City are also to be remembered . . . And then there were all those wonderful, crazy hours of spontaneous song and laughter . . . Choir has been a joyful and enriching experience, both musically and personally, in my life at Guilford.

Women's Center

The Guilford College Women's Center has an ambitious purpose — to educate both men and women, to bring women together and increase communication. We are presently small in number but have a long list of activities in mind:

Panels, discussions and teas about the E.R.A., alternative life styles, abortion, and other issues of special interest.

We have information available to interested women about local gynecologists, availability of birth control, and costs.

We have a library with books by and about women —and we encourage people to use it.

Other past events that may be included once again in our plans are speakers, films, and letter-writing parties supporting political issues or viewpoints. Art displays will also hopefully be repeated, and a poetry anthology by Guilford women.

The Women's Center is attempting to meet the needs of more than just one kind of woman and is not a radical feminist organization. It is flexible and its orientation depends on the ideas and interests of those who wish to be involved.

Ford's Unexpected Visit

While Guilford students were away on Spring Break, President Gerald Ford paid a visit to the Guilford College campus. Swarms of Secret Service and White House staff people scurried around campus throughout the week, as students were busy soaking up the rays of Ft. Lauderdale and Daytona.

The complexion of the campus changed drastically. Grass was mowed and weeds pulled as men in well tailored suits began to appear on campus. Southern Bell launched a massive invasion, sending as many as nine trucks and crews at one time.

Shortly after his visit to Guilford, Mr. Ford was soundly beaten in the N.C. Presidential Primary. He isn't likely to stop by here again.

The '75 Quaker football squad concluded one of their best records in Guilford history and several players were spotlighted for their fine performances. A highlight of the Quaker season was the confrontation with Elon College.

Sept. 27-Burlington, N. C. - Guilford vs. Elon

At 5:00 p.m. on September 27 many people that had just witnessed the Guilford-Elon football game were stating that they had just seen the greatest game ever played by a Guilford College squad.

Chris Paphites scored first for the Quakers on a pass from Joe Osborne to give the Quakers a 7-0 lead. Billy Whitley scored the Quakers second touchdown, while Butch Foley's extra point gave the Quakers a 14-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Elon came back with a touchdown in the second quarter, but the Quaker's middle guard Bunky James blocked the extra point to give the Quakers a 14-6 halftime lead.

In the second half Bunky James, Al Patterson, and the rest of the defensive unit put on a great show as they shut down the Fighting Christians' offensive unit. "A Great Game" are the only words for the Guilford-Elon Match.

1975 marked a year of change for the Guilford College soccer team. With scholarship players and a new coach, the program turned away from a disastrous 1974 season to one of success and fulfillment in 1975.

Coach Ray Alley led the Quakers to a 7-5 record and included was a 2-1 final regular season victory over High Point for the Carolinas Conference championship on a sunny Sunday afternoon in November.

The year began unsteadily for the Quakers, being upset by Greensboro College, but then playing an inspired game against Belmont Abbey, only to lose 4-3 in the closing moments.

Guilford then reeled off three straight wins, knocking off Catawba, Averett and Atlantic Christian before once again losing a heartbreaker to a top-notch game. Playing in the mountains against Warren Wilson, the Quakers overcame a 3-0 halftime deficit to tie the game at 3. Two Owl goals in the last five minutes gave WWC the win, but only after one of the finest halves of soccer between any two teams during the year was played.

UNC-G and Elon then bowed, 6-2, 6-0, but Guilford had trouble against Pfeiffer losing it in the second half, 3-0.

The Quakers finished out the regular season with another win over Catawba and the emotional triumph against High Point.

The District play-offs were next, and a chance for redemption against Belmont Abbey. Guilford led at the half 3-2, but the explosive Crusaders broke the game open during the last 45 minutes, winning 7-3.

Guilford basketball was a spectator sport this year. The Quakers had a scenario that couldn't miss, with Jack Jensen directing the players. The trick was to build up a quick lead — say ten or twenty — in the first few minutes, then allow that lead to dissolve until only three or four points separated the two teams at the half. This strategy accomplished two goals: first, it proved to the other team how good Guilford was; second, it kept the fans from leaving at the half, which they certainly would have done if Guilford were up by twenty. Even against a lowly team like Pfeiffer Guilford pursued this strategy.

The second half was always a seesaw battle throughout. The fans remained perched on the edges of their seats. Then, with a couple of minutes, or seconds, remaining, one of the Quakers would toss in an improbable bucket to win the game by a hairsbreadth.

By this time the coach of the opposing team was so riled by the self-confident dilly-dallying of the Quakers, that before the game was over he would inevitably be called for a technical or two.

In a game with Mars Hill, Guilford tried out a brand-new six-man offense. The Mars Hill coach complained bitterly after this questionable sextet scored a basket. The officials, confused and embarrassed no doubt, deemed his conduct unseemly, and called a technical on the hapless Martian coach. This incident resulted in another Quaker Squeaker. (82-81).

Of course the fans loved this sort of thing. Those musically inclined in the Quaker contingent formed a band, and contributed their rumblings and bumbblings to the already roarin Alumni Stadium.

It was a hard year for the cheerleaders, however. Anarchists by nature, the fans kept their eyes glued on the players, and reacted as the spirit moved them. They paid little attention to the energetic ladies who were trying to direct their outbursts.

Still, everyone had plenty to cheer about. Not exactly pre-season favorites to win the coveted Carolinas Conference crown, the quirky Quakers did just that, losing only to last place Pfeiffer and to upstart Catawba (a loss later avenged). Along the way, Sam Kennedy picked up player of the year honors for the conference.

But it was in post-season play that Guilford really distinguished itself. First came the CC tournament, which Guilford won handily. Then the NAIA elimination tournament began. Overnight the Guilford trees — and some traffic signals as well — bloomed with toilet paper, as Guilford won impressive victories over Winston — Salem State and Gardner Webb. The latter team had been rated as high as number three in the nation in the small college poll. Those two games, which sent Guilford to the national NAIA championships in Kansas City, proved to be the high point of the season. Once in Missouri, the Quakers fell asleep (The game began just before and finished after midnight.), and lost the first game they played there. "You just wait," said Freshman Gary Devlin after the game, "We'll be back. We'll be back three straight years."

The Quakers finished the season with a 21-6 record. Senior Ray Branch had an excellent season, consistently leading Guilford in rebounding, and backing up Kennedy in scoring. Guilford will miss him next year.

Quaker Baseball '76!

"It's not a good way to end your season with two straight losses," stated Guilford College head baseball coach Stuart Maynard. "but you also have to realize that there were 412 other teams that would have loved to come out to the NAIA World Series and have gotten the chance to play in two games."

For the Guilford College Quakers the chance came the hard way as they had won three straight tournaments in three weeks to get the chance to go to the annual spring baseball tourney in St. Joseph, Missouri where eight of the best small college teams in the nation square off to see who will be in NAIA National baseball championship.

After winning the Area championship in Wilmington by beating West Liberty State of West Virginia twice and Francis Marion of South Carolina once, the Quakers were airborne on their way to Missouri for only their second visit ever to the national baseball tourney.

Emporia State out of Kansas was the Quakers' first round opponent in the double elimination tourney and two key errors in the game spelled defeat for the Quakers.

In the second game the Quakers met Lewis-Clark College of Idaho. Again the Warriors placed the Quakers behind early as they scored a run in the first inning. Guilford's big problem was just not being able to hit the ball. The Quakers could only come up with one run, that coming in the fourth inning.

Two years ago Guilford had a 9-21 overall baseball record and in just two years they have compiled a 53-26 record and a trip to the national NAIA World Series.

Larry Jackson lost the first game on the mound but Jackson in the past two years will be remembered for his leadership and great pitching ability.

For Guilford coach Stuart "Rock" Maynard the title of coach extraordinary should be placed upon him for the great job that he did in putting together this squad.

Only two starting pitchers and one starting catcher are gone off this squad that with a couple of good pitchers could be back on its way to St. Joe next year.

With the combination of eager new people and the experience of returning veterans, the lacrosse team looked forward to an exciting season. Coach Charles Forbes, who had his first taste of the sport this year, provided excellent leadership in molding the players into a polished unit. Yet, disappointment began the season as three teams dropped their games from the Quaker's schedule. Every one of the four remaining games was fought vigorously and not in a single contest was Guilford outmatched. Next year proves to be promising, as a full schedule is expected along with a returning veteran team.
